

WORLD FAMOUS ARTIST JAIME JURADO COLLABORATES WITH COLLECTION RIMON ON THE COSTA DEL SOL TO BE THE GALLERY'S MAIN PROTAGONIST

How did you enter into the world of art?

I was passionate about it from a very young age. I was always curious and I loved drawing, as well as everything related to the arts, then I continued studying, training myself, and I have been working professionally for many years now.

What are your inspirations and how would you define your style?

Any moment, any journey, any everyday object inspires me. I am very observant and find inspiration easily, then I interpret it in my inner world and try to capture the idea on canvas in a personal language, according to my way of understanding painting. My career as a plastic artist has led me to evolve over the years.

In what way has your style evolved and changed over the years?

My first stage was very academic and figurative, based on the Renaissance and Baroque, but later, for several years, I was closely linked to the contemporary landscape, until I gradually deconstructed and synthesised it to arrive at a very abstract and conceptual work. This is the language in which I am working at the moment.

How did the collaboration come about with Collection Rimon?

It goes back quite a few years. Josef, the owner of Collection Rimon, saw in me something special that he wanted to showcase within his company, and I saw in Josef a firm commitment to internationalization which, to this day, means that our synergy continues to flow. The collaboration has led me to exhibit in different continents.

Tell us about one of the most exciting moments in your career.

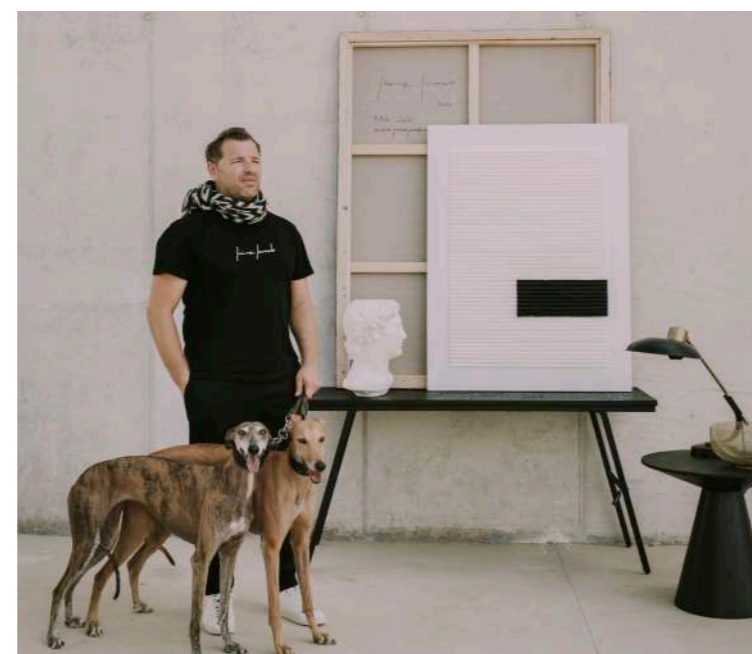

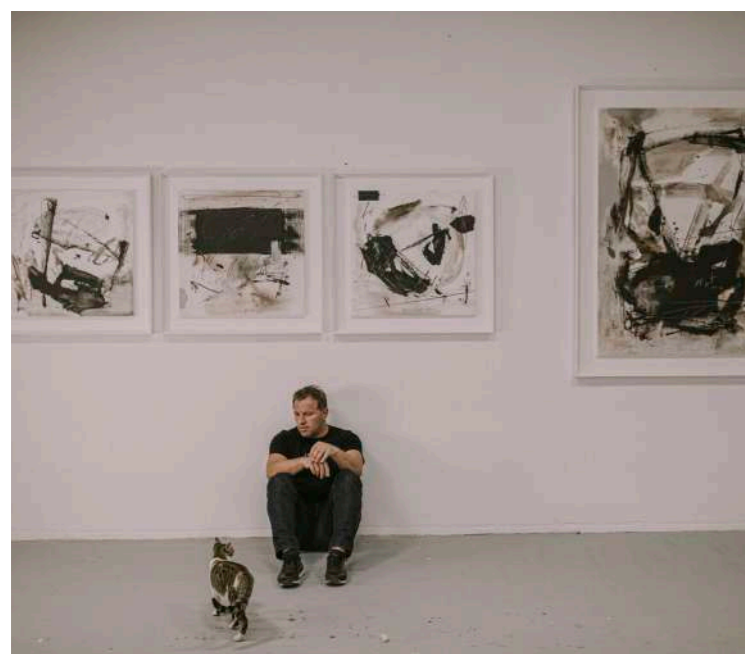

Fortunately, I have had many amazing moments. For me each new recognition is just like the first one, and it is hugely motivating, as is the fact that different museums around Spain want to show my work. However, if I had to mention a specific moment, I would highlight my participation in a group exhibition at the Bilbao Fine Arts Museum, where I had the opportunity to share a display room with major artists such as Picasso, Chillida, Sorolla and Dalí, among others.
